What is Family Counselling?

Family Counselling is a counselling service for individuals experiencing difficulties within their relationships. Family counselling can help people to better manage personal or interpersonal issues to do with children & family during marriage, separation or divorce.

The aim of this service is to help strengthen relationships to prevent any further breakdowns. The wellbeing and safety of children is our priority.

Family Counselling is a short-term, early intervention service and it should not be used in place of psychology services

Who Can Access Family Counselling?

- Anyone experiencing difficulties within their family relationships; e.g. difficulties with their partner, parent, child, sibling etc.
- Anyone experiencing emotional problems with a spouse or partner
- Anyone going through a separation or divorce
- Children who's parents are having relationship difficulties; including re-partnering or separation
